summing up the Government's case, "have presented this matter of advertising in magazines in such a way as to leave the impression that there is a controversy over it. There is none. The Department knows that the advertising matter in magazines produces first class mail and that the Post Office is benefited in that way. The important question is, What effect will a whole increase of one cent a pound have on the advertising? Will it be the means of stopping it?"

"We feel that advertising would not be diminished by such an increase, and if such is the case all this information which we have heard to-day, interesting as it may be, is not to the point, because the conditions described will continue in the future as they have in the past. believe that advertising under the proposed rate will continue in the same volume that it has in the past. The argu-ment has been made that advertising matter creates first class mail matter and that this benefits the Government. There-fore, they say, second class mail matter should not be penalized. This seems to carry the assumption that advertising would stop. LAW DEMANDING DATES ON CHILLED FOOD VIOLATED.

Food Packers Ignore New Brennan Measure Forbidding the Keeping of Foodstuffs for More Than Ten Months Two Officers of One Company Called.

Magistrate Corrigan yesterday issued summonses for the president and secre tary of a cold storage house on the first complaint made under the new Brennan which provides against keeping foodstuffs in storage for longer than ter months and makes it mandatory on the storage house keeper to stamp or brand in storage. The Brennan bill has been operative since the middle of last June. but there were no funds available to hire inspectors to see that the law was complied with until August 13, and so all summer long the storage people have been packing foods away on ice without having their attention called forcibly

The summonses issued vesterday are the first in what will be a long crusade against undated food. Assistant District Attorney Delehanty has already evidence against three Manhattan storage companies, and the inspectors have found more violations in Brooklyn. As there are only six inspectors appointed for the whole State, and as only three of hattan, it will be slow work, the Assistant District Attorney thinks. After a few convictions are obtained, however, he doesn't believe the other storage men will ignore the law.

The Greenwich Cold Storage Company of 402 and 404 Greenwich street is the first corporation attacked, and the summonses already issued call for the appearance of the president, L. R. Prvor. D. The evidence against the Greenwich Cold Storage Company was obtained by Inspectors Roche and Scharff of the State Board of Health. In affidavits applying for the summonses they state that on August 19 they visited the storage house and there found fifty-six barrels of sardines in storage without any date of receipt branded or stamped on them. They furnished the officers of the company with a copy of the law, they said, and left, returning on August 21. The barrels were still un-

MAY WIPE OUT OLD BOARDS. Radical Action Proposed by Trenton's

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 25. The new city erned practically decided to-day to abolish the water board of six members, the park commission of five members, the bers and the harbor commission of four members. The commission has already abolished the police, fire and excise commissions. Formal action upon a resolution abolishing the additional commissions was deferred until next Monday in order that further consideration might be given the subject.

Should the commission carry out its present intentions about the only part of the old city government that would be left in existence would be the local board of health, the board of assessors and the public library commission, together with the departmental clarks and gether with the departmental clerks and employees, none of whom has as yet been disturbed.

The determination of the commission

The determination of the commission to exercise its authority in abolishing old boards was the result of a clash between Commissioner Burke, director of parks and public property, and the old water board over the payrolls of the current month. Mr. Burke reported the incident to his fellow commissioners, who decided that in the interests of harmonious city government it would be best to wipe out of existence departments showing a disposition to rebel.

Mayor Donnelly proposed at to-day's meeting that the entire ground floor
